

A word from the Editor of College Magazine

As the Editor of Literature and Magazines of our heritage Dakshin Kamrup College, my main responsibility is to oversee the activities of literature and magazines on campus. This includes managing the production and distribution of the College's literary magazine, organizing literary events and workshops, and promoting the literary arts throughout the College community. This report provides an overview of my activities and accomplishments in this role since the start of my term.

Magazine Production :

One of my primary responsibilities as Editor of Literature and Magazines is to oversee the production of "DAKSHIN PAT", the main literary magazine of our college.

I am very happy to say that the magazine "Dakshin Pat" to be published under my editorship will be celebrating its 50th (Golden Jubilee Year). Therefore, in order to publish a high quality magazine, it is enough to have elements of form, aesthetic pleasure, reader interest, creativity and universal contribution as well as contribute to the development of knowledge through valuable and subtle critical and continuous articles on culture, social civilization, new lifestyle I'm emphasizing.

Literary events and workshops:

In addition to overseeing the production of our college literary magazine, I have organized several literary events and workshops on campus. These events have included poetry readings, author talks, and creative writing workshops I have worked with faculty and staff from various departments to ensure that these events are well publicized and attended by diverse audiences. Through these events, we are able to bring together students, faculty, and members of the broader community to engage with the literary arts and explore new ideas and perspectives.

Conclusion:

Overall, my work as editor of literature and magazines for our college has been focused on promoting the literary arts and creating opportunities for students and faculty to engage in this rich and diverse field. Through my work on the magazine, events and workshops, and outreach efforts, we have been able to build a strong literary community on campus and encourage the exploration of new ideas and perspectives. I look forward to continuing this work in the coming year and beyond.

Launching of Wall Magazine "Angkur"

As every year, it was decided to hold the "Annual College Week 2023" of our college from 2nd to 8th February. My first step as a magazine editor was to launch the college's main Wall Magazine, 'Ankur'. Therefore, from February 1, I formed an editorial committee of four members including my fellow friend Hriday and Gitartha and started preparing the magazine. The work was completed at about 8 pm on 2nd February. The annual college week started with various programs on 3rd February morning and the main Wall Magazine of the college, Ankur, was launched at exactly 10 am. Dr. Jilmil Bora (Head Professor, Department of English) delivered a beautiful speech and launched the main wall magazine with her signature. There present the principal sir of our college and all the departmental professors with all the Union body secretaries and the students.

Art & Craft Competitions:

I was able to conduct all the competitions in the art and craft categories between 4th and 5th February. The judges were Hon'ble Suman Das and Bichitra Sharma. I first felicitated them with a Pride of Assam which is known as Gomocha and requested them to start the competitions one by one. They beautifully conduct each competition one by one in an orderly manner. The number of students participating is also relatively higher than before. There was a very nice competition among the students where it was difficult to determine the position. However, the position of the competition must be determined so the names of the position contestants determined by the judges are given below –

Comment: Finally, I would like to thank every judge and every student who participated. I am eternally grateful to my supervisors Sunil Talukdar and Ellora Choudhury for explaining how to conduct the competitions so beautifully. I am trying my best to give my best. The students are aware of my sacrifices and efforts. I conclude my writing by wishing the literary field of Dakshin Kamrup College all the best. Long live Dakshin Kamrup College.
